

Church Girl Letter — Full Resequencing V11

Updated: July 20, 2026 (Day 15) | 25 Full Stories + 3 Brief Mentions | Running Trait Counters at Every Position

New Story #25: Chasing a Ghost (Cornerstone)

The Story: At ~31, Sam worked at Cornerstone Senior Services — 70-80 salespeople in Tennessee. The president had his arm around the #1 salesperson, yelling at the whole sales force: “Why do you need leads? This guy works everybody at church! Be like him!” Sam was #2 in the company for six months. Every week: if Sam made X, the guy made X plus 3,000. If Sam made X, the guy made X plus 2,000. He couldn’t catch him. Three months later: turns out ALL of the guy’s business was fake. Stolen Social Security numbers, stolen bank information. He went to jail. Lost his insurance license. The president looked terrible for promoting him. But Sam was #1 the whole time and didn’t know it. He was competing against a ghost — and the ghost made him push himself to his limits every day. “I’m sorry he was a criminal, but the more he scammed people, the more I got real business instead. He helped me. I wonder if the president visited him in jail.”

Emotions Elicited: Impressed, Amused, Respect, Dark Humor

Ratings:

Metric	Score	Reasoning
Emotional Intensity (EI)	6	Interesting and funny, not gut-punch level. The “visited him in jail” punchline gets a laugh.
Story Engagement (SE)	8	Good three-act structure: chasing → reveal → punchline. Keeps her reading.
Curiosity & Wonder (CW)	7	“He was #1 in a company of 80 people.” Shows he’s excellent at what he does.
Trust & Safety (TS)	8	He’s successful through REAL work. He’s honest. He doesn’t cheat. He finds humor in adversity.
Question Engagement (QE)	7	“Ever competed against something that wasn’t real?” — decent but not her strongest.
Average	7.2

Placement Decision: Full standalone story at Position 15 in Sequence C (between Santa Discovery and Aerosmith Kid). Here’s why:

- Position 14 (Santa) shows his brain catches things. Position 15 (Ghost) shows his WORK ETHIC and professional excellence. Position 16 (Aerosmith) shows he admits mistakes. The progression is: clever mind → excellent performer → honest about flaws.
- The “church” mention in the story (president promoting church networking) subtly validates what Sam is doing with his letter — connecting with someone at church.
- The punchline (“I wonder if the president visited him in jail”) is a clean laugh after the respect/competence beat.
- It introduces a NEW trait: Professionally excellent/Competitive — which hasn’t appeared anywhere else in the letter.

Stories on the Bench (V11)

Story	Avg	Status	Best Use
Grandma's Headlock	7.0	Bench	Alternate for Super Cat
Happy Medium	6.0	Bench	Function served by closer
Nine Als	6.2	Brief mention in opener
Seven Layers of Roof	6.8	Brief mention in closer
St. Patrick's Day (Kansas)	N/A	Verbal only	Third-date story

21 stories + opener (2 pages) + closer (1 page) + 3 brief mentions (1 page total) = approximately 32-35 handwritten pages.

If trimming to 28-30 pages (19 stories), cut:

- Santa Discovery (function served by Pizza Tow + Joanna mention)
- COVID National Parks (function served by Shanti + Marcus for sanctuary theme)

If trimming to 25 pages (17 stories), also cut:

- Chasing a Ghost (professional excellence is nice but not essential)
- Aerosmith Kid (forgiveness is nice but not essential)

My recommendation: 19-21 stories. The length IS the message. "You are worth every page."
